Preface

Let's Learn English Grade 3 Pupil's Text Book has been implemented in the schools since 2001. Feedback from the teachers of English teaching in Grades 3 – 5 has revealed that some amendments are required urgently.

The reasons given were that opportunities to practise correct formation of letters in the English alphabet were not provided till the lessons have progressed for some time. Since writing activities have been introduced from the very beginning in the Let's Learn English (LLE) workbook, there is a possibility of adopting students' own way of forming letters by the time they reach the activities designed specially to practise formation of letters.

This has become an urgent task to be addressed because formal English with reading and writing starts only at Grade 3 and Activity Based Oral English is done at Grades 1 & 2, where priority is given only to Listening and Speaking. It had also revealed that there is no formal introduction of the letter "O" in the present Grade 3 workbook. Unless correct guidance is given from the very beginning, there may be a tendency to confuse direction of writing letters of English with the direction of writing letters of the mother tongue. The exercises have been specifically designed with letters that could be written easily at first, progressing to those which are more difficult. Piloting of the workbook was carried out in a sample of schools in 2007.

LLE Workbook I should be done by the Grade 3 students and completed before starting the course of work for Grade 3. After completing all the exercises in this, the Pupil's Text and the Workbook II could be started by the teachers.

Guidelines for the workbook

- The teachers are expected to complete the workbook before starting LLE Grade 3 text.
- Colours and numbers are included with the intention of adding variety.
- It is suggested that to make the learning enjoyable, a variety of activities should be introduced.
